Gov wants your, if possible, joint input on the questions below. In other words, could you agree on the answers to these questions?

Does Duke Energy's shutting down coal plans necessitate the demand for ACP?

What percentage of the pipeline capacity will DE and Dominion use to generate electricity? Who has signed up to use the other available capacity? Will those users benefit N.C.?

What does the reported addition of South Carolina say about the need for ACP? Does it mean there is not enough demand to build the pipeline just for NC, VA and WVA?

Walk us through the job creation formula. Are ACP's job creation projections realistic?

How will the ACP expand access to natural gas for businesses or potential businesses in eastern N.C.?

What are any other benefits of having the pipeline in eastern NC?

If you can find time to consider those questions this week, it would be good for you either to meet with me and Julia, or perhaps get on a call.

Do you have time?
